Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurAugmented reality broadens our vision of everyday life, so couldnt the same be achieved for senior managers as they face growing complexity both within and beyond their company? Just as a Smartphone can be made smarter by downloading apps, shouldnt it be possible for managers to work smarter by being equipped with a few smart tools ? This short essay by an expert in corporate organization suggests ways in which 21st-century managers can augment their vision of management and encourage the growth of those they manage.Prsentation de l'diteurAugmented reality broadens our vision of everyday life, so couldnt the same be achieved for senior managers as they face growing complexity both within and beyond their company?
