But Christopher is a man who lives by and for the truth, and his internal compunctions force him to the heart of the matter.Revue de presse'There is no better American spy novelist. It's like the best parts of ten John le Carr novels all put together' - TIME. 'Charles McCarry's masterpiece... would be intriguing even if told in pedestrian prose, but the grace of its writing gives it a special dimension... beautifully written, its conspiracy theory still intrigues and it most assuredly is a classic' --Washington Post'The best writer of intelligence and political novels in the world' - Boston Globe. 'Cool, intelligent... superbly readable... rich entertainment' --Sunday Times'Ranks up there with Le Carr in a select class of two' - Daily Mail. 'Possibly the greatest espionage novel ever written and certainly the most compelling effort to unravel the many secrets surrounding the assassination of President Kennedy' --Otto Penzler, New York SunPresentation de l'diteurPaul Christopher, at the height of his powers as a secret agent, believes he knows who arranged JFK's assassination.
